May 2024

Gentlemen,

Two special events occur in the fourth quarter of Wabash’s fiscal year. The first was the annual Wabash “Day of Giving” on 04.24.24 when we were asked to donate to the college on this special day. Skip will devote his report on the results of this campaign as his contribution to this letter, so I’ll stop now and “skip” to my part.

As the Day of Giving is past I’d like to update you on the future (tenses if you’re a fellow English major) celebration. That is the annual “Big Bash” on May 31 – June 1, which I call “Class Reunion Part 1” since it’s a great time to catch up with old friends and see what’s new on campus. There’s still time to register at www.wabash.edu/bigbash. Registration closes on May 22. Unfortunately I will be unable to attend this year, but here’s a current list of the Class of ‘64 registrants:

- | | |
|-----------------|-----------------|
| Harry Alfrey | William Robbins |
| Dudley Burgess | Troy Scott |
| Bill Diehl | Robert Sehr |
| Frederic Kraft | Stanley Sibell |
| David Livengood | Tad Sinnock |
| Robert Mitchell | Jack Sipe |
| Bert Nicholson | Dave Stamper |

We hope that these men not only enjoy the weekend, but will send us personal comments of their experience of it. This info we’ll incorporate in our next letter.

Yours in ‘Bash,

Ron

Dear fellow Wabash Men,

Way to go! In our most recent Day of Giving (4-24-2024) the College took in $1.72 million representing 8,039 gifts, surpassing last year's 6,939. What that means is that the College took in $2,035 for every student on campus, and the College's success means that - because of your generosity - we unlocked $727,000 in lead and surprise challenge money, all quite a feat for our little College on the prairie! Seriously, thanks for all you did and continue to do for Wabash. And if you didn't get a chance to send in something, it's never too late. The College's fiscal year ends on June 30, and you can help Wabash reach 40% alumni participation for the 11th straight year.

Thanks to all who heard the call!

With Ron Nichols,

C. L. "Skip" Lindeman '64
